

WE JUST LANDED IN LONDON
AND MADE A RECORD.

MORE THAN 12,000 MILES NONSTOP.

The Boeing 777-200LR Worldliner.
The world's longest-range commercial airplane.

It took off from Hong Kong flying east. And when it landed in London yesterday, it had flown halfway around the world. Beyond setting a new nonstop distance record, the spectacular flight of the Boeing 777-200LR Worldliner represents a new world of travel possibilities. More convenience, more choice and more opportunity. Nonstop, all the way.
