

Business Consulting: Military

Support and Services

Business Consulting

Military

The increased complexity of today's weapon systems, combined with budgetary pressures to reduce operating costs, demand innovative approaches to improve operational efficiency. Boeing Business Consulting provides a gateway into a full spectrum of proven commercial concepts, services and tools to help Boeing defense customers optimize your mission and operations.

Applying proven commercial solutions and services to enhance affordable readiness

The Military practice offers the following consulting services:

Weapon System Analytics and Modeling

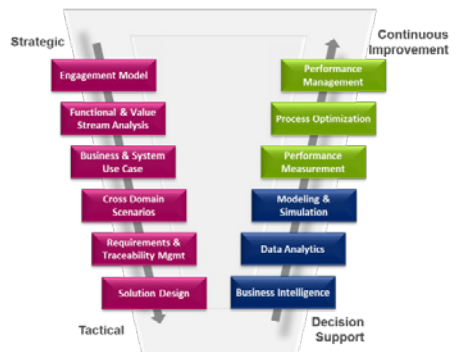

- Business needs and gap analysis using Boeing's Weapons System Operational Model
- Business and system use case modeling
- Functional and value stream analysis
- Advanced analytics solutions for maintenance, engineering and logistics optimization

Performance Management Framework

- Holistic approach to Performance Based Logistic solutions
- Integrated performance management system
- Performance Measurement System interfaces, data collection and analysis tools
- Performance-driven continuous improvement modeling
- Information dashboards and management tools

Commercial Consultancy Services

- Commercial best practices for military solutions
- Operational assessment
- Fuel-Efficiency Solutions
- Optimized Maintenance Program
- IT strategy and requirements
- Commercial solutions integration
- Support design concepts

Contact us at BusinessConsulting@boeing.com to discuss your requirements.

Boeing Commercial Airplanes

P.O. Box 3707
Seattle, WA 98124-2207
www.boeing.com