Award: Pathfinder

Use of new technologies or processes to create substantial new value within the Boeing supply chain.

Q: What does it mean to be recognized as a Supplier of the Year?

A: CSIRO is excited to be named a Supplier of the Year, as over 34 years we are honored to be a true partner. We are so much stronger together, as Boeing allows CSIRO to turn excellent science and innovative ideas into industry leading technology that changes lives and has real impact.

Q: How does your company exemplify excellence?

A: As Australia's national science and engineering agency, our innovation and excellence places us in the top 10 applied research agencies in the world. We celebrate our people and science excellence through our yearly CSIRO Awards, and by communicating/promoting through publications in journals, on our digital channels and through media, and by presenting at conferences and lodging IP.

Q: What should people know about your company?

A: At The Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Research Organisation (CSIRO), we solve the greatest challenges through innovative science and technology. CSIRO is an Australian government agency responsible for science and innovation, partnering with leading organisations around the world to commercialize science to have impact for Australia and the world.
